

PRESS RELEASE

FOR IMMEDIATE DISTRIBUTION

HENRIK BRILL JENSEN JOINS NAPATECH AS CEO

Copenhagen, Denmark / Mountain View, CA - 03 February 2005, Napatech today announced that Henrik Brill Jensen joins the company as CEO.

Mr. Jensen comes from a position as Site Manager of Danish Wireless Design (A Infineon Technologies Company) and Director of Product Creation at Flextronics ODM in Copenhagen. Prior to this Mr. Jensen served as Director of Engineering at Intel's Converged Communications Division, President & COO and co-founder of nextgen Ethernet startup Firstmile Systems.

Henrik will work out of Napatech's Copenhagen office with focus on bringing new products to market at a higher speed enabling Napatech to grow a sustainable profitable business, supporting the strategy of Napatech and its investors.

"I am very pleased that we have been able to attract Henrik to Napatech. Henrik will significantly strengthen both our operational and business development capabilities," said Jens Christophersen, CTO and co-founder of Napatech. "Henrik's arrival allows the whole team to even more effectively develop the value we offer to our customers."

About Napatech

Founded in 2003, Napatech is focus on programmable and intelligent Ethernet adapters. The core idea is off-loading real-time/streaming traffic and payload analysis and control applications traditionally implemented in software or proprietary hardware. Napatech expects a huge growth in the demand for intelligent and programmable adapters as Ethernet speeds increase. The current PC architecture limits the amount of bandwidth that can be handled by the PCI bus and CPU/memory. Napatech offers its products to OEM customers. Napatech has marketing and R&D offices in Mountain View, California and Copenhagen, Denmark. Napatech is a 2004 Tornado100 Winner. Napatech is funded by Northzone Ventures, DTU-Innovation and a group of business angels with vast experience within networking.
